MORE THAN TEN INCHES OF SNOW hit the Quad-Cities Sunday, only 11 days after more than a foot of snow had fallen. Norman Stawar, 1648 Fourth St.,

Cold follows 2nd big snowfall here

Bone-chilling cold has swept into the Quad-Cities in the wake of the winter season's second big snowfall.

After between 12 and 13 inches of snow were recorded here Dec. 19, a total of 10.6 inches were tallied Sunday afternoon and evening, settling down into a basic layer of over nine inches and drifting into mounds several feet high.

The temperature dipped to seven degrees above zero this morning, with a wind-chill index of 17 degrees below.

Today's high is not expected to exceed 15 degrees, with a drop tonight to either five below or ten degrees below zero to greet the new year.

On New Year's Day tomorrow, the temperature is expected to go no higher than the "teens," the U. S. Weather Service reported today.

Granite City Street Department personnel started their snow fighting efforts at 2 p.m. yesterday, and worked throughout the night.

During the night, six men mowed two graders, a high lift and two salt and cinder spreaders to try and clear the streets.

Lionel Portelli, street superintendent, said Madison Avenue was plowed and salted first and then the crews turned to secondary streets. The state plowed and salted Nameoki Road during the night.

"I think anyone who wants to go somewhere can pretty well get there now, if he can get out of his driveway," Portelli said early this morning.

Madison and Venice streets also were passable today after the street departments of those cities cleared the snow.

Madison crews worked from 2 to 6 p.m. yesterday spreading salt and resumed work at 5 a.m. to clear off the snow on top of the salt.

McKinley Bridge presented a problem for the Venice Street Department due to a lack of traffic to break up the salt pellets. Workers there were on duty from 1:30 p.m. yesterday to midnight and started again at 4 a.m. today. The bridge was reported slippery but in relatively good condition this morning.

BREAK INTO AUTO

Items worth $381 were stolen from the auto of Franklin Chapman, 2261 Cleveland Blvd., after the hatchback window of the car was pried open in his driveway, it was reported at 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

Taken were a scanner radio, a tool box and sockets and wrenches, two bowling bags and a bowling ball.

With the snowflakes falling silently but rapidly throughout the evening, traffic was reduced to a minimum throughout the Quad-Cities last night.

Robert Rill, 3213 Erin Drive, had dressed warmly due to the weather but was accosted by four youths about 16 to 18 years old at 8 p.m. Sunday while he was walking at 24th Street and Madison Avenue.

They wrestled him to the ground and stole his coat, shirt, socks, boots and stocking cap.

The coat was found later in the 2400 block of Madison Avenue.

The Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville, often closed by weather because employees have to drive to work from all parts of the county, was open today. But the sheriff's department at Edwardsville reported the office was being manned by a "skeleton crew."

The number of patrol cars on the street was normal, however.

The Granite City clerk and treasurer offices were closed today, the announcement being made about 7:30 a.m., just as some City Hall employees reported for work.

Laclede Steel Company's Madison plant was closed today but American Steel Foundries and Air Products & Chemical, Inc., both reported normal workshifts today, as did other industries.

The Local A. O. Smith Corp. auto frame plant was closed today and will remain closed tomorrow due to the snowstorm.

It has not yet been determined how much of an impact the gasoline shortage will have on the Smith plant, which produces frames for full-size autos.

The General Motors plant in St. Louis has announced layoffs affecting 3,500 workers.

Workers on the GM passenger auto production line are to be notified Wednesday of elimination of the second shift and temporary shutdown of the entire line in the next few weeks.

The St. Louis plant is one of ten facing shutdown of passenger car production in January and February.

In all, about 86,000 GM workers will be laid off, 36,000 indefinitely, because the energy crisis is turning some buyers away from big cars.

Gasoline availability is such a concern that 1974 U.S. auto sales will reach only 10½ million instead of the predicted 13½ million, GM believes.

5 arrests in school thefts

Four youths and a Granite City man were arrested in connection with thefts at two schools Friday night.

At 9:30 p.m. Friday, a man reported he saw several youths leaving a driver training trailer at Granite City High School.

North and one dropped a motion picture projector.

Officers found that the trailer had been broken into and several items, including a slide projector, had been taken.

At 10:40 p.m. Friday, an alarm sounded at Prather Junior High School and police responded. Officers saw three youths in a hallway, running toward a rear exit.

"Two ran into a field behind the school and were captured there and another ran around the east side of the building and was caught."

A fourth youth escaped. Arrested at the school were Ronald Daugherty, 18, and James Daugherty, 20, both of 5609 Lewis Ave., and Kevin Riggs, 17, of 2028 Lindell Blvd.

They were charged with burglary.

Officers later arrested Charles Winder, 18, of 3141 Georgetown Apartments on Maryville Road, at Maryville Road and O'Hare Avenue, and charged him with burglary.

At Prather, two windows had been broken at the ends of two hallways at the rear of the building. Two doors to the principal's office had been pried open and Rooms 31 and 33 had been entered by breaking down the doors. A soft drink vending machine had been pried open.

Officers questioned the youths they had arrested and at 6:30 a.m. Saturday they went to the home of Arthur Heatherly, 28, of 3145 Georgetown Apartments, with a search warrant.

They reportedly had to break down a door to the apartment to gain entrance. A projector, two stereos, a turntable and a tape recorder were taken from the apartment by police.

Heatherly was charged with theft. Bond was set at $10,000.

At St. Louis, 3,500 will be laid off for 10 days, and 2,200 of these are expected to remain off indefinitely.

The passenger car line affected in St. Louis builds the Impala and Caprice models of the Chevrolet.

Deputies OK new contract

Five weeks of negotiations between Madison County sheriff deputies and jailers ended Friday as a contract offer from the county's finance committee—offering raises of 17 per cent over two years—was accepted.

A similar agreement is to be presented to members of Local 799 of the State, County and Municipal Employees, representing 400 courthouse and county employees, on Wednesday for ratification.

The ballot will be taken in two sessions, with most employees voting at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday and the remainder voting at 5 p.m.

The sheriff's department agreement calls for a six per cent raise retroactive to Dec. 1, another six per cent starting June 1, 1974, and a four per cent raise in the second year of the contract.

Increased fringe benefits also are included.

The event fuel shortages have an impact on public transportation.

One calls for curtailment of lightly traveled lines if the buses have a shortage of diesel fuel, while the other calls for increased services if a shortage of gasoline forces more motorists to ride the buses.

Boy, 14, burned seriously

Richard Foote Jr., 14, of 1712 Kennedy Drive, Madison, was to undergo his second operation today since he was seriously burned in an accident at his home at 1 p.m. Thursday.

The boy said a camping lantern was responsible for the fire which caused second and third degree burns to his right lower leg and foot.

A friend, Darrin Obermeier, 14, of 1827 Third St., had just knocked on the front door when the accident occurred. He heard the yell and ran into the home and to the basement where he found Richard with his clothes burning.

Obermeier wrapped the burning leg in throw rugs and extinguished the flames. Richard was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by his parents and underwent surgery Thursday night to graft skin on the burned leg and foot.

If the skin grafts are successful, Richard may not have to undergo plastic surgery.

Plan trip to Washington on funds for repair of breaks

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Granite City is facing a financial dilemma because of the mounting number of sewer breaks in the Nameoki area — and the necessity of repairing them.

The city has spent more than $1 million in repairing broken sewer lines so far this year. This cost does not include a series of

270 crash fatal to local man

Benjamin A. McMillon, 51, of 11 Lakeview Drive, Pontoon Beach, was fatally injured when his car went out of control on Interstate 270 at the Route 203 exit and went over the bridge railing, falling 16 feet onto its top at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Mr. McMillon was pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Deputy Coroner Robert H. Thomas.

He was born in Cosby, Tenn., and resided in the Quad-City area 25 years. He was employed by the U.S. General Services Administration as a carpenter in St. Louis.

Mr. McMillon was a member of Cedar View General Baptist Church, Pontoon Beach.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Rose McMillon; two sons, John H. McMillon of Granite City and Benjamin A. McMillon Jr. of San Diego, Calif.; a daughter, Mrs. Gaylon (Carol) Millard of Granite City; five brothers, Amos and Kenneth McMillon, both of San Diego, and Goldman, Gordon and Joseph McMillon, all of Lenoir, N.C.; five sisters, Mrs. Florence Jenkins, Mrs. Matilda Holler, Mrs. June Enlow, Mrs. Ruth Freeman and Mrs. Ila Woodall of Lenoir; and three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

A new bid call for construction of drainage improvements for the Dobrey Slough area in Nameoki Township has been issued by the Division of Waterways of the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Bids for the project called for the fourth time are to be opened at 10:30 a.m. Jan. 2 at the Division of Waterways offices in Springfield, according to Leo M. Eisel, director of the waterways division.

The proposal, which calls for an underground drainage line from the south end of the slough, south to the north end of the slough, and then eastward to the south end of the slough, will be a controversial undertaking which has involved unsuccessful efforts by the state, the East Side Levee and Sanitary District and Granite City.

While the state has appropriated $150,000 to finance the drainage line, bids by the division of waterways have been unsuccessful on three previous occasions. In the first bid call, there were no bidders, and in the second the lowest of two bids was 77 per cent over the state cost estimate.

The third bid call on Oct. 30 resulted in only one bid that was 56 per cent over the state cost estimate. The state routinely rejects bids which exceed the state's engineering estimates by more than 5 per cent.

four new breaks developing within the last few weeks.

To make matters worse, the city has received only $150,000 in flood disaster funds under the program set up by the state and federal governments following severe flooding earlier in the year. The city maintains it should receive a total of $745,000 on the basis of flood damage to the sewer lines.

The Army Corps of Engineers which has the job of screening applications for flood disaster aid has allowed the city funds for repairing 11 sewer breaks occurring prior to last May 1. This amounts to $510,000. To date, the city has 21 breaks.

The other $235,000 to which the city is entitled feel Granite City officials has not been approved by the Corps which contends the damage involved was caused, at least in part, by televising the lines. The televising was required by the engineering corps to qualify the city for flood damage funds.

Because of the delay in allocation of funds already approved by federal agencies, the Granite City Council last week authorized Mayor Paul Schuler to go to Washington in an attempt to resolve any problems that are holding up distribution of money.

Schuler said he plans to confer with top officials of the Housing and Urban Development Agency through which applications for flood assistance funds are channeled, and with Cong. Melvin Price of this district. Schuler said he hopes Cong. Price may be influential in removing the bottleneck delaying flood assistance funds.

If Granite City receives no more than the $510,000 for which applications have been accepted by the Corps of Engineers, the city will have to foot the bill for sewer repairs totalling as much as $750,000, and possibly more.

The full extent of the cost for repairing broken sewer lines will depend upon the extent of the breaks which still continue to occur without letup.

Repairs are being made by the Fins Ernest Contracting Co. of East St. Louis under a unit price contract awarded by the city last July. High cost of the repair work has resulted from an extremely high water table which has prevented repairmen from reaching the sewer lines until the breaks are "dewatered."

This process alone costs the city $2,500 per day for dewatering at breaks upon which repair work is being done.

Dewatering and by-pass pumping of sewage around the breaks in sewer lines has accounted for approximately 75 per cent of the repair cost so far. The contract price for by-pass pumping is $1,000 per day.

City records show that payments to the Ernest firm as of Nov. 30 totaled $912,043. December bills by the contracting firm which have not yet been submitted to the council for payment, will bring the total well above the $1 million mark.

Of the total of $912,043 paid the contractor as of Nov. 30, $679,400 represented costs for dewatering and by-pass pumping.

At the beginning of the current fiscal year last May 1, the city budgeted $800,000 for sewer repairs. Thus, the total amount paid to Nov. 30 was $112,043 in excess of the budget for that account.

As a result, city officials are expected to amend the budget to a new figure in excess of $1 million in an amendatory appropriation ordinance expected to be presented to the City Council within the next few weeks.

Payment of sewer repair costs, supplemented only by the $150,000 in federal flood aid, has depleted the city's regular general fund transferable accounts by using money out of the sales tax and state income tax receipts.

2 HURT IN CRASH

Two persons were injured when the cars of Robert Knapp, Troy, and Donald Rains, Ellington, Mo., collided at Third Street and Madison Avenue at 1:55 p.m. Friday. Knapp and Robert Morgan, Belleville, a passenger in Knapp's car, received minor injuries.

Pastor says family endangered, seeks $100,000, end of threats

Neither the defendants nor the plaintiff in a suit filed last week could comment in detail the weekend on last week's charges by Giles Heister, pastor of the Church of Christ, 2130 Clark Ave., that some church elders and members have threatened, beaten, shot at and attempted to discredit him.

Heister filed suit to try and stop an alleged course of conduct which he charges has caused him "grievous financial loss and impairment of his earning ability," and serious mental anguish and torment.

The suit names three elders and three church members in separate counts. Elders named are Virgil Calk, Eugene Isham and Bill Walker. Members named are Bill and Ray Penn and Lyndell Spurlock.

Heister seeks an injunction restraining the church from further actions against him. He also asks for a judgment of $100,000.

Specific allegations made by Heister are that the church, its officers, elders and others, has made telephone and verbal threats against him and his family, has made an attempt to shoot him and his children with a pistol and has declared to members of the congregation that he stole a tape recorder.

The pastor further alleges that church officials made declarations to members of the congregation that he ordered an electric organ for church use and refused to pay for it. The church's religious beliefs forbid the use of music in church services, the suit relates.

He alleges that declarations were made that Heister incurred debts and was unable or unwilling to pay his bills, and that Heister was guilty of "heresy, financial misconduct with church funds, and failure to perform his duties."

Heister charges that officials and members of the church have made notice to other churches and to members of the local congregation that Heister has resigned when he has not, and that they have declared that he "will never preach from the pulpit of the defendant church, or from the pulpit of any other church."

The suit also charges that Heister was the victim of "physical violence, including but not limited to blows to the head and shoulders and at-tempts to choke him by the neck."

The suit denies all of the allegations made against Heister and says the defendants knew the allegations to be untrue.

Heister declined to comment on any aspect of the suit, saying, "I can't give you an answer." He referred all questions to his attorney, Robert Larson of Chapman & Chapman.

Hebert, a Granite City fireman, said he has not received anything official on the suit and is not well enough informed on the contents of the suit to comment. "It seems all pretty ridiculous to me," he said.

Hebert said he thought the defendants would likely not be able to get together until tonight or tomorrow to discuss their course of action. Calk voiced surprise at the suit but conceded hearing rumors of a gun being pointed and threats being made to other churches.

Judge William Beatty has been assigned the case. The defendants have 30 days in which to file responses.

Chapman-Kibort nuptials at St. Margaret Mary's

Tall ornamental Christmas trees, poinsettia and a nativity scene decorated the sanctuary and pink bows with holly leaves marked the pews at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church for the wedding Saturday afternoon of Miss Karen Alyce Kibort and David Keith Chapman.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Kibort, 3341 Colgate Place. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Chapman, 433 Congress St., Ottawa, Ill.

The Rev. Robert Becker officiated at the double ring ceremony at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Warren MacZura, an aunt and godmother of the bride, sang "The Wedding Song" and "Sunrise, Sunset," accompanied at the organ by James Havranek. Miss Jeri Johnson played "Colour My World" as a flute solo.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a candlelight organza gown, featuring imported ivory peau d'ang rose lace on the molded Empire bodice and the candlestick-style sleeves. The semi-sheer yoke, made in a V-design with a high Edwardian collar, was lavishly trimmed with seed pearls.

Delicate rose lace motifs etched with tiny pearls were applied at random on the A-line skirt and attached train. She wore a Juliet cap fashioned of the fragile ivory lace, enhanced with seed pearls, to secure her shoulder length veil and she carried a cascade of bridal pink roses, stephanotis and baby breath, festooned with ivory velvet streamers.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Russell W. Hamilton, a sister of the bride. She served with bridesmaids, Miss Gayle Carper, the bride's cousin, Miss Karen Chapman, a sister of the groom, Miss Denise Cox, Mrs. Jeff Jolly and Mrs. David Vance.

They were dressed alike in formal length gowns with ruby red velvet bodices and carnation pink skirts. The portrait collars of pink crepe were trimmed with Cluny lace and lace edged the long velvet sleeves. Poinsettia and a nativity scene decorated the sanctuary and pink bows with holly leaves marked the pews at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church for the wedding Saturday afternoon of Miss Karen Alyce Kibort and David Keith Chapman.

Off-campus education meaningful program

The off-campus education program in the Granite City School district is helping make the school program more meaningful for all students, not just those bound for college.

Donald Shaffner, co-ordinator of the program, told the breakfast Kiwanis Club at its Thursday meeting in Charlie's Restaurant.

Shaffner explained the program designed for juniors and seniors permits them to work three to four hours a day in a vocational field of their interest. The student receives valuable on-the-job training, school credit and pay.

Approximately 100 students are active in the program which is providing them with real work situations and letting the local community help set the work standard for future employees.

The program originally involved St. Elizabeth Hospital and local beauty schools, but now has expanded to include several retail businesses and various skilled trades.

Kiwanian Bobby Joe Davis was the program chairman for the day.

No business was transacted. It was announced that next Thursday's meeting will be a business session.

Right turns on red will start tonight

The long-awaited "right turn on red after stopping" law becomes official at midnight tonight, Michael J. Howlett, Illinois secretary of state, reminded motorists today.

The new law is the result of legislation approved by the General Assembly and signed into law by the governor June 12.

Optimists have lunch Thursday

The Optimist Club held a brief luncheon Thursday noon at the local YMCA. Due to the holidays, no program was planned and no business discussed.

Optimist Louis Passhoff announced the club will hold its regular meeting next Thursday and the film "Electronics of the Future" will be shown.

Education 'action goals' include positive attitude toward learning

"The one thing that appears certain about the educational needs of future generations is that they will not be the same as they have been traditionally. Unless we anticipate those needs intelligently and set out specific plans and objectives to meet them, we fail the future."

This was the statement of State School Superintendent Michael J. Bakalis Friday in announcing issuance of the second edition of "Action Goals for the Seventies," the state's long-range plan for educational improvement from the state to the classroom levels.

Both editions of Action Goals resulted from public hearings around the state at which educators, students, parents and others testified on the problems of education. The first edition of Action Goals was published in May 1972.

Bakalis said, "If Action Goals' commitment for educational renewal is upheld by successive leaders of our schools in this state, it will offer the basic foundation for a guarantee of equal access to a quality education for all persons, regardless of their age."

The new Action Goals, 147 pages long, contains two major parts: Creating and Evaluating the Goals (1971-1973); From Paper to Practice.

The first part outlines the process of public involvement that preceded both publications, the debate, controversy and impact of the first edition and how this affected the new publication.

Speaking of the public's involvement in the development of the goals in Action Goals, Bakalis said, "Difficult problems, of course, seldom yield to easy answers. But problems, painfully and emotionally charged as they may be, must be dealt with boldly and not be permitted to paralyze an essential forward movement toward educational excellence."

"So the principal function of continuing public involvement in discussing and revising this document is: to clarify the mission of our schools and to charge the schools, the people they serve, and the people who serve them to achieve the very best that is in them."

The second part of the book spells out the "substantive goals" for education. It also contains a list of specific objectives, most of them timed for completion by a certain date, that schools should achieve to reach the goals. Some objectives have been revised as a result of continued public evaluation of the plan.

Bakalis described the section containing the specific steps for achieving the goals as "perhaps the most important part of the book."

"These objectives are program oriented, time specific, and product specific. This edition contains a progress report for each action objective, citing state and local examples of specific movement toward accomplishment of the objective."

He referred to the list of more than a hundred projects in 65 school districts which names areas of progress toward achieving the goals contained in the first edition of Action Goals. These examples of progress, he said, are only a few of the hundreds that could be mentioned. "To me, these local examples form the most exciting part of the book."

The specific objectives in the second part of the document are designed to meet the following basic goals—that the educational system must:

—Provide an environment which helps students, parents, and other community members demonstrate a positive attitude toward learning.

—Foster a feeling of adequacy and self-worth on the part of all students.

—Provide opportunities for students to express and appreciate creativity.

—Provide experiences which help students adapt to a world of change.

—Provide an environment which brings about appreciation for and positive attitudes toward persons and cultures different from one's own.

—Provide equal educational opportunities for all.

—Provide every student with opportunities in training for the world of work.

—Provide experiences which result in habits and attitudes associated with citizenship responsibilities.

—Provide an environment which will enhance the physical performance and physical movement competencies of students.

Testimony given at the hearings was the primary source for the goals and objectives.

In his introduction to the second edition, Bakalis said:

"The overriding goal continues to be to provide an action agenda which can strengthen local capability to deal with the educational challenges of this decade. Educational reform and renewal can come only through strengthening the ability of local school boards, administrators and teachers to become responsive to change."

"The agenda will be meaningful if local school communities do not discuss and plan for accomplishment of the objectives."

"No amount of state mandates will accomplish the missions of this document without local involvement and detailed, systematic planning. The role of OSPI is to provide the mechanisms for continuous discussions of educational renewal efforts and to stimulate and nurture the development of local capability to adapt to the unprecedented changes of this and the next generation."

Fee for titles due after Jan. 1

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, has issued a reminder that effective Jan. 1, a $5 charge will be made on all titles issued by his office, including duplicate and corrected titles.

The new uniform fee, which Howlett first recommended in a speech last May in Chicago, is a result of legislation approved by the General Assembly and signed into law by the Governor Sept. 14.

Other provisions of the bill include elimination of a fee for junking certificates, a decrease in the fee for mobile home titles and display certificates of title from $5 to $3, creation of a salvage certificate with a $3 fee, and an increased fee for prorated backing plates from $1 to $2.

Suit against housing board

A $10,000 suit has been filed in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville against the Granite City Housing Authority on behalf of Tina Melton, 13, a minor, by her mother, Betty Barnhart.

The suit alleges that on July 26, 1973, the child stepped on a piece of broken glass in the Kirkpatrick Homes housing project and severely cut her foot.

Ask the Governor

Q. I would like to know why there is no kind of job training for people who have not finished high school. There must be some way a 21-year-old can better herself. No one has been able to help me.—P. Gillan, Granite City.

A. I have established Governor's Branch Offices throughout the state, so that people like you who have questions about state government can walk in and ask for help in your area.

Eight offices are located in the Chicago area, two in East St. Louis, one each in Fairview Heights, Rock Island, Decatur, Jacksonville, Marion, Fairfield and Sparta.

I sent your letter to Marianne Shevlin, manager of my Fairview Heights office. She said that you may use several agencies providing training, manpower and other educational classes, vocational counseling and guidance in obtaining a GED which is equivalent to a high school degree.

If you contact Ms. Shevlin at (618) 218-1800, Fairview Heights, or call (618) 396-1833, she will assist you.

Gov. Dan Walker invites you to question him about state government and what state government should be doing for people. All questions will be answered by Gov. Walker and some of the questions and answers will appear, probably condensed, in this column.

Letters must be signed and an address provided. Upon request, your name will be withheld. Send to: ASK THE GOVERNOR, NOR, Illinois Information Service, 201 W. Monroe St., Springfield, Illinois 62706.

Right of aldermen to ride in police cars challenged

A legal opinion as to whether or not Granite City Council members have the right to ride in city police cars without permission granted by the council is expected to be given the council by City Attorney George Filcoff, under direction by the aldermen last week.

The question was referred to the city attorney for an opinion after Alderman Walter Nomm challenged the council members' authority to "ride around" with police officers during duty hours, "unless the council gives the aldermen the right to do so."

Nomm said he thought the aldermen "can get in a lot of trouble if they find themselves in the middle of a violent situation," and suggested that the practice of accompanying officers on calls be stopped.

"Only officers are allowed in patrol cars," Nomm said, adding that "the state statutes give the aldermen only the authority directed by the City Council."

Alderman Sam Whitmer suggested that the matter be referred to Filcoff with the request that a "written opinion" on the question be prepared for the aldermen.

Business institute grant

The School of Business at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has received a second grant of $1,750 from the Small Business Administration (SBA), to continue the Small Business Institute (SBI) program on campus for the winter quarter, 1974.

According to Raymond LaGarce, last quarter's project manager, the SBI program is a multi-disciplinary program which benefits the SBA, small businesses and the University.

For the winter quarter, 1973, the SBI will be incorporated into the Management Problem Laboratory program offered by the SIUE School of Business.

Explorers dine, dance, bowl

Fifty-seven Explorers and their dates enjoyed an evening of entertainment last week, starting with dinner and concluding with bowling at a local lanes.

The holiday function was for members of Explorer Post 10-4, a law enforcement specialty post sponsored by the Madison Police Department and the Madison Lions Club.

A family-style chicken dinner, complete with all the trimmings, was served at 7 p.m. at the Stop Light Restaurant in East St. Louis.

Dancing followed with an exchange of "fun" Christmas presents. Later, the group adjourned to Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl on Namecki Road for several games of bowling.

Each Explorer entertained his own date at the dinner, with the youth's own expenses taken from the Post 10-4 treasury. Bill Weidner of Madison, post president explained.

Jeff Tolliver of Venice, second vice-president and post program director, served as dinner chairman.

Before the evening concluded, the Explorers signed a get well card for post member Randy Graville, who is a patient in Room 504 at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, for treatment of tularemia, an ailment contracted from a diseased rabbit.

The youth apparently succumbed to the unusual ailment after cleaning rabbits on a recent hunting trip.

Post 10-4 meets on the second and fourth Wednesday evening of each month at the Madison Police Station. Youths interested in joining the post are invited to attend a meeting or contact J. Richard Hooks, post advisor.

Guests at the party were members of the Sobriety Sapsarilla Sipin Society, a fun group consisting of associate advisors and elected officers of Explorer Post 10-4.

A special guest was Terry Toth, immediate past president of Post 10-4 who now is a paramedic in the U. S. Army. The former Explorer is home on leave for the holidays from Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D. C., where he is assigned.

Various cheeses and meats were served buffet style, together with sapsarilla.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an ivory satin gown, floor length, designed with an Empire waist and portrait neckline. Re-embroidered lace roses and seed pearls were applied on the long tapered sleeves and semi-full skirt.

She wore a caplet of ivory satin embellished with lace and pearls to secure a tiered chapel length veil, accented with matching lace motifs. She carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations, yellow daisies, white and yellow mums, red roses and ivy.

Lighting the candles was Miss Teri Southern who wore a red street length dress. She had a corsage of white carnations.

Michael Vogelsang attended the groom as best man. Seating the guests were Stephen and John Lufcy, both brothers of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dalhaus selected a lime green floor length dress enhanced with silver and gold threads interwoven in the material. Her corsage was of green carnations.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Sewell, was attired in a pink double knit frock made with long full chiffon sleeves and complemented with a white carnation corsage.

South captures its own holiday wrestling meet, North third

VICTORIOUS DECISION was awarded GCHS South's Dan Heath (top) Thursday as he downed Rocky McDonald of Belleville East in the Granite City Holiday Wrestling Tournament. The final decision was 8-4 in the 132 pound weight class match. (Press-Record Photo)

The championship of the prestigious Granite City Holiday Wrestling Tournament came home to roost Friday night with GCHS South earning 104 points to capture first place over 16 other schools, its first overall victory since 1968.

The South Warriors, undefeated in 50 consecutive dual meets, excluding tournaments, produced four individual weight class champions and three place winners to end Riverview Gardens' two-year domination of the tournament.

Three of South's individual champions emerged from the meet undefeated: 119 pounds, John Niebur, 122, Dan Heath, and 155, Brian Wilson.

Included in Dan Heath's string of victories was a 2-46 pin of GCHS North's Chester Fetter in the fourth round of competition, the first wrestling bout ever held between the two local high schools.

The Warriors' fourth champion was 126-pound Don Heath.

Place winners for South were: 98 pounds, Woody Halbrook, third; 105, Steve Garland, third; and 145, Dave Rushing, second.

Bloomington, which finished second in the meet with 67½ points, had two champions: 105, Mark Jordine, and 167, Keith Brandt.

Third place went to new Granite City North, which tallied 64 points to edge out Belleville East's 53½.

Rudy Pyle of North captured the 112-pound individual title. Four place winners assisted in the Steeler effort—98, Randy Hartline, second; 132, Chester Fetter, second; 138, Terry Johnson, third; and heavyweight, John McMillin, third.

took two individual titles—98, Jim Reizer, and 145, Bob Baldwin.

Defending champion Riverview Gardens, after running second behind the Warriors at the end of the first day's competition Thursday, fell into fifth place with 59½ points. Heavyweight Mark Laney provided the Missouri school with its only first-place wrestler.

The remaining championships were given to Jay Hangartner of Peoria, whose team earned 49 points to take sixth place, and Mike Eckert of Ritenour, 138 pounds, whose school captured seventh place with 47 points.

Rounding out the team standings were: Roxana, eighth, 44½; Lincoln, ninth, 43½; Hazelwood, 10th, 31½; McClure, North, 11th, 28½; Normandy, 12th, 26; Wood River, 13th, 20; Cahokia, 14th, 17; South Decatur, 15th, 13; and Jacksonville, 16th, 10½.

Earns third place

Records fell at Alton Thursday as the combined team of St. Mary-St. Mark schools (Madison-Venice) captured third place honors in the sixth annual Marquette Lettermen's Club grade school basketball tournament, better known as a miniature "Sweet Sixteen".

The local squad downed St. Kevin of Rosewood Heights 43-23 in the first round, then posted a 53-46 victory in the quarter finals over St. Bernard of Wood River to advance to the semifinals against the eventual tournament champion, St. Norbert of Hardin.

St. Mary-St. Mark met Consolidated Catholic of Alton to determine third place after losing 50-36 to St. Norbert. Consolidated had lost to SS. Peter and Paul of Collinsville 43-8 in its semi-final game.

Joe Piechocinski set a new record of 35 points in leading the local team to a 59-28 victory over Consolidated, a feat which earned him a spot on the All-Tournament squad. The old record of most points scored by an individual in one game was 32, set in 1969.

The Collinsville squad set a new tournament record of most points scored by a team in one game with its 64-27 win over Granite City's St. Margaret-Mary in the quarter-finals. The old record was 60 set three years before.

St. Margaret-Mary had defeated St. Ambrose of Godfrey 41-23 in the first round of competition before being eliminated by its loss to Collinsville.

The third place win in the tournament was the best St. Mary-St. Mark has ever finished in the annual event.

Trojans win 3 holiday games, earn 2nd place

By KEN THOMPSON

Press-Record Staff Writer
Madison High School basketball fans filled the gymnasium at Edwardsville Saturday night in hopes of the Trojans capturing their first Edwardsville Holiday Cage Classic as the local squad squared off for the championship game with the Edwardsville Tigers.

"Whether we win, or whether we lose, this is the team we'll always choose" was the expression on the faces of the Madison supporters before the Trojans fell 70-51 at the hands of the home team.

The victory ended years of disappointment for the Tigers, who had not captured the title since 1968. Edwardsville overpowered Litchfield 87-63, GCHS North 69-54 and Elk Grove 59-57 to clash with the Trojans for the title.

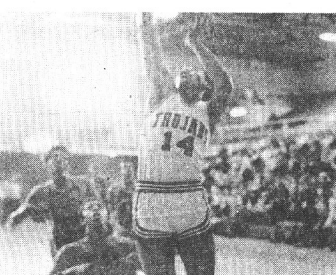

Edwardsville read Madison's offensive attack to the letter and held the usually high-scoring Chris Stanley and Ron Glasper to a combined total of 25 points while outscoring the local cagers in every quarter, 19-16, 17-12, 14-6 and 20-17.

The added 10 points each of Carl Campbell, John Henke and Glasper helped Madison. But the Trojans hit only three of seven from the free throw line to the Tigers' six out of 12.

Rudolph Bradley was the Trojans' other pointmaker with three field goals. Madison, down by eight points at halftime, forced the enemy to give up the ball 20 times but failed to stop the Tigers from recovering 34 rebounds, seven of their own and 27 of Madison's. The Trojans brought down 12 of their own rebounds but were able to get their hands on only 11 of the opponents'.

Edwardsville' Greg Abart, playing with a groin injury, was held to 15 points. Dick Brown, who had scored 26 points against GCHS North, was repeatedly held by the Trojan defense and tallied 19 points.

Tiger Coach Mel Roustio applied the tactic of "keepaway, and score with whoever is available." The game plan worked and enabled 6-8 Tom Gammill to add 16 points and Bruce Hesterberg another 12.

The loss dropped Madison's season record to 9-3, with its three victories in the tournament earned at the expense of three of the best schools in the state, Roxana, Glenbard East and East St. Louis.

Pierre Duhon of East St. Louis squad, consolation champion in 1969, runnerup in 1970 and 1971, and third last year, had to again settle for third, defeating Elk Grove 64-61 Saturday night after Madison upset the Flyers 69-59 in the semifinals on a free throw by Norman Whitecotton.

The Trojans matched East St. Louis in scoring almost shot for shot and trailed by two, 27-25, at halftime after having led 19-13 after the first period.

MHS narrowed the deficit to 43-42 by the end of three quarters and pulled ahead of the Flyers 59-57 with 24 seconds left in the final period.

Madison, with Henke out of the game on fouls, called Whitecotton off the bench to play out the waning seconds of the game.

An almost immediate foul added fuel to the already heated contest as Whitecotton stepped to the free throw line for a one-and-one. Dribbling the ball the meet.

Larry Graham, Madison head coach, remarked after the title game. "The team gave its all. We knew Edwardsville would be tough."

He added, "We'll have a chance to avenge the loss when we meet the Tigers on our own court Jan. 12."

The Trojans earned the right to meet East St. Louis in Saturday's championship semifinal contest by downing Roxana 70-68 in Thursday and with Friday's 64-46 victory over Glenbard East in quarter final action.

The first round battle with Roxana turned into a seesaw affair with the Shells outscoring Madison 13-10 in the first period and then Roxana fell behind, 39-34, at halftime.

Roxana picked up the pace again early in the second half on the 27 points scored by Chris Schroeder. Schroeder fouled out of the game at the start of the final period.

In the third period, the Shells outpointed Madison 18-13 for a 52-52 tied halftime.

Not to be denied a victory, Madison held Roxana to 16 points in the final period of play while adding 18 of its own for the narrow win.

Chris Stanley led Madison in points with 24. Rudolph Bradley scored 15, Ron Glasper 11, Jon Henke, eight, Daryl Franklin, six, Carl Campbell, five and Norman Whitecotton one.

"We were not favored to beat Glenbard," said Coach Larry Graham. "Our 31 rebound recoveries to their 19 made the difference."

The Rams contained the scoring power of Chris Stanley but could not stop the 23 point spree of Ron Glasper as Madison outscored Glenbard in all but the third quarter, with the local squad leading 16-13 in the first period, 33-26 at halftime, and scoring 21 points to the enemy's six in the final period. Glenbard picked up 14 points to Madison's 10 in the third quarter.

Madison hit on 20 out of 31 free throws while committing 17 fouls, whereas Glenbard was six out of 15 from the free line while fouling 24 times.

Aiding Glasper in scoring were: Jon Henke with eight points; Rudolph Bradley, 12; Mike Walker and Carl Campbell at seven apiece and Chris Stanley with six.

The Trojan defense held the Rams scoring to only four players—Ron Strack with 22, Chris Parks 12, Mark Cleveland five, and Bill Rider, three.

Venice repeats as champion of Columbia-Freeburg tourney

The Venice Red Devils rallied behind the 22 points scored by all-star Ron Henry and the 21 points of sophomore Reggie Gardner Saturday night to defeat the Lebanon Greynolds 64-52 in successfully defending their Columbia-Freeburg Holiday Cage Tournament crown.

The tourney victory, a first for new basketball coach Richard Essington, was the sixth such Venice title out of the past eight years, the Devils having lost in 1969 and 1971.

Venice held usually high scoring brothers Robert and Tom Burns to 21 points and added to the Red Devil scoring by capitalizing on Lebanon's 18 fouls. Venice hit on 13 shots from the free throw line.

The local squad enjoyed a 20-13 halftime lead, having led the Greynolds 12-8 at the end of the first period. Lebanon struck back in the third quarter to outscore Venice 20-11, but failed to overcome the halftime deficit when the Red Devils tallied 24 points as compared to the enemy's 19 in the final period.

Other Red Devil pointmakers were: Mike Logan, 15; Tony Sitten, four; and J. B. Harmon, two.

The only other double figure scorer for Lebanon was Jim Perkins with 14 points.

The championship earned by Venice was the end result of four consecutive victories in the four-day tournament.

The championship clash was made possible Friday when the Red Devils downed Central (Aviston-Breese) 55-43 in semifinal action. Venice Coach Essington is the former cage mentor at Central, having led the enemy squad last year before coming to the local school.

"I didn't even think about Central having been under my leadership," said Essington. "In a tournament such as this, everything but the task at hand is blocked out of my mind."

Central by far provided the Red Devils with the toughest competition in the tournament. The enemy squad kept pace with Venice almost the entire game.

Venice held a slim 14-12 first-quarter margin before extending it to 31-23 at halftime. Central closed the gap to six points by taking a 10-8 advantage in the third period.

The local squad added 16 points in the final period and Central was finally only 10. The Red Devil defense held Dave Warnecke to a game total of 15 points before he fouled out.

Warnecke had scored 34 points the day before in Central's victory over Freeburg.

Venice hit on nine of 14 from the free throw line, and recovered 24 rebounds in the game.

Adding to Central's points were Steve Reilmann, 14, and Mike Haar, eight.

Ron Henry again led Venice with 19, Reggie Gardner had 12, J. B. Harmon 10, Tony Sitten seven, Mike Logan four, and Richard Bailey, three.

Venice reached the championship semifinals with an 83-45 victory Thursday over the Staunton Bulldogs, breaking the eight-game winning streak of that team.

Staunton, which romped over Brooklyn, 57-46, in the opening rounds of competition, never had a chance against the Red Devils as the local squad led in every quarter off the scoring of nine players, including 30 points by all-star Ron Henry.

Venice jumped into an early lead 16-10 first quarter lead and added 18 more in the second period to lead the Bulldogs 34-18 at halftime.

Staunton gained two points more than the local cagers, 19-17, in the third period but lost all hope in the final quarter when Venice tallied 32 to the Bulldogs' eight.

Henry led the Red Devils in scoring with his game-high 30. Reggie Gardner added 14, J. B. Harmon and Tony Sitten had 10 each, J. B. Harmon earned eight, Mike Henry five and Ron Taylor, Jeff Corrie and James Turner each added two points.

Overall, Venice hit on 38 field goals to the enemy's 18 and made seven of nine free throws as compared to Staunton's nine of 16. The Red Devils committed 14 personal fouls to their opponents' 11. Staunton's Daryl Schuette scored 14 points and Don Sullivan 12 to head the Bulldog point makers.

Steelers top Robinson but lose to host Tigers

Granite City High School North's hopes of being a first-year entry champion of the Edwardsville Holiday Cage Classic were dampened Friday when the host Tigers eliminated the local squad 69-54 in quarterfinal action.

The Steelers had downed Robinson High 60-54 in the first round to advance in the championship bracket against Edwardsville, but then failed to contain the striking power of Tigers Dick Brown and Tom Gammill. Brown tallied 26 points and Gammill eight field goals and three free throws for 19.

Edwardsville penetrated North's defense to score 18 points in the first period while holding the Steelers to six. North Coach Bill Ohlendorf adjusted the defense and the change allowed his team to keep pace with the enemy. But the lead was not to overcome, and the Tigers enjoyed a 35-21 halftime margin.

"They got us down too far early in the game," Ohlendorf said after North outscored the Tigers 14-11 in the third period but still trailed by 15.

With the score at 60-44 late in the fourth quarter, North's Dave Schneck and Tiger Dick Brown squared off for a jump ball, with Brown getting the tipoff to Jim Burkhardt. Burkhardt passed the ball back to Brown, who upped the score with a 30-foot shot.

Greg Gauen and Daryl Page retaliated with four points for North before a foul on Schneck, which put him out of the game, sent Bruce Hesterberg to the free throw line. The Edwardsville player made good one of two shots for a 69-48 score.

Larry Jones, after being fouled, added two points for the Steelers and seconds later scored a field goal.

With 56 seconds remaining, Otto Seebold was fouled on a rebound recovery attempt and provided North with the last two points of the game.

Fouls dominated the contest, North committing 23 and the Tigers 16. Edwardsville made good 13 throws from the foul line to North's 10.

The Steelers were led in pointmaking by Page, with 16; Schneck, 12; Mike Waldo and Gauen, eight each; Jones, six; and Seebold, two.

The North Steelers advanced to the quarterfinal against Edwardsville by virtue of Thursday's first round 60-54 win over Robinson High School Maroons.

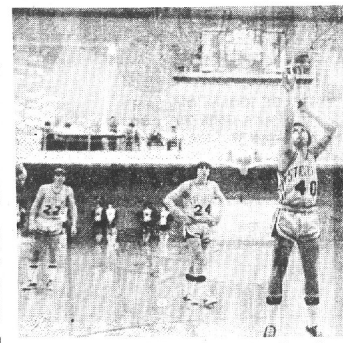

North outscored Robinson 32-24 in the first period before the Maroons came alive and pulled within one point, 19-18, with 33 seconds left in the second period. The local squad then added three to the scoreboard to lead 22-20 at halftime.

The Steelers pulled away from the enemy in the third period of play to lead 43-31, but their margin dwindled to three, 53-50, in the waning minutes of play.

Steeler Coach Bill Ohlendorf called time out with two minutes remaining and the pep talk fired North into seven more points while holding the Maroons to four. Dave Schneck, who totaled 24 points in the game, 11 field goals and two free throws, sank one through the hoop from 20 yards out and with three seconds remaining recovered his own rebound shot for another basket, to add two more points.

North hit on six of 13 free shots while Robinson scored nine of 12 attempts. Four of the Steelers' free throws added to Greg Gauen's 14 point total.

"NOW LOOK FELLOWS"—GCHS North Coach Bill Ohlendorf (center in light coat) called time out to lay it on the line to the Steelers who held a slim three point lead over Robinson High School in the final minutes of play at Edwardsville Thursday night. After the pep talk the local squad returned to the court and downed the enemy 60-54 in the holiday cage classic. (Press-Record Photo)

Warrior quintet bows 62-58, 71-45 in meet

In the words of former basketball star Ray Sonnenberg, "It's not so much if a team wins or loses, but rather how it pulls itself up after being down. That is the test of a real competitor."

The cage Warriors of Granite City High School must now face that test after dropping their seventh consecutive season game to Glenbard West Friday, 71-45, at the 43rd annual Pontiac Holiday Tournament. South's loss to Glenbard in the first round of the consolation bracket eliminated the local squad from further competition in the tournament.

Glenbard West sent the Warriors home after outscoring them in every quarter of the game, 16-11, 20-8 and 29-15, while holding Mike Martinez to a total of nine points. Glenbard had four players scoring in double figures and totaled 31 field goals and nine free throws.

South was led in scoring by Ken Bertrand, who tallied 15 points.

Adding to the Warriors' total points were Martinez, nine; Rick Fancher, six; Kirk Champion, five; Keith Gehling, four; Tom Schooley, four; and Terry Hollis, two. The local team scored 16 field goals and 13 points from the free throw line.

The Warriors fell into the consolation bracket via a 62-58 first round loss to the Waukegan Bulldogs Thursday afternoon. South failed to rally the 36 point scoring spree of Mike Martinez.

Martinez made 10 of 15 while holding Mike Martinez to a total of nine points. Glenbard made 11 at all going into the second quarter, then tallied 12 more to help bring his team to within two points, 33-31, of the Bulldogs at halftime.

The Waukegan defense came alive in the third quarter to hold Martinez to only two points and outscore South 17-10 for a 50-41 lead.

South struggled in the final period of play to regain lost ground by outscoring the enemy 17-12 as Martinez added 12 more.

But the third period deficit, coupled with the 24 points racked up by Waukegan's Ralph Sims, proved fatal to the Warriors.

Complementing Martinez in scoring in that game were Tom Schooley with 11 points, Dale Williams with 6, and Ken Bertrand with 5.

Record steel production pace in '73

With a month to go in 1973, domestic steel producers had topped their entire 1972 raw steel output total, and were closing in on an all-time record. According to the American Iron and Steel Institute, mills in this country poured 12,882,000 tons of steel during November, a record for the month.

This pushed total raw steel output through the first 11 months of 1973 to 137,696,000 tons—close to the all-time one-year steel production high of 141,282,000 tons set in 1969.

Of 1973's output through November, 70,159,000 tons came from basic oxygen furnaces. Open hearths contributed 36,467,000 tons to the total, while electric furnaces made the remaining 25,069,000 tons.

During the comparable period of 1972, raw steel output totaled 121,224,000 tons, with 67,877,000 tons made by B-O-Fs, 31,848,000 tons by open hearths, and 21,499,000 tons produced by electric.

During November 1973, B-O-Fs made 6,906,000 tons of steel, compared with 3,516,000 tons from open hearths and 2,357,000 tons from electric furnaces.

ASTI's steelmaking index, based on average 1967 production as 100, stood at 120.3 in November 1973. This compares with an index of 119.2 in October and 117.0 in September.

Through the first ten months of 1973, steelmakers in this country had shipped their customers more mill products than they did during the full 12 months of 1972.

Domestic steel shipments reached 93,288,000 tons by the end of October. This was nearly 1,500,000 tons more than the 191,805,000 tons shipped during all of the previous year—and was just under the all-time one-year shipments record of 93,877,000 tons set in 1969.

The steel industry set its third straight monthly record when it shipped 9,892,000 tons of steel in October. This was the highest total ever for the month, and follows new records for the months of September and August.

Steel shipments totaled 8,243,000 tons in October of last year, and 75,623,000 tons during the first ten months of 1972.

Steel company employees averaged more hours on the job during October than they did in any month since May.

ASTI reported that persons engaged in production and marketing of steel worked an average of 39.5 hours per week in October, the longest average work week since May.

At the same time, however, the number of such workers carried on steel company payrolls slipped for the third month in a row. They totaled 312,300 individuals in October. This was down from September's figure of 314,900 persons, and 1973's employment high of 320,500 persons, reached in July.

During October of last year, however, the comparable employment figure was only 483,300.

In October 1973, steel producers paid out $602,559,000 in wages and salaries, bringing the total of such payments through the first ten months of 1973 to $5,597,155,000.

Total employment costs per hour for hourly employees were $7.78 in October 1973, compared with a $7.08 average for 1972, including costs of such employment benefits as pensions, insurance, supplemental unemployment benefits, the non-payroll portions of savings and vacation plan costs, and legally required payroll taxes.

SPRINGFIELD — Rep. Doe wants the background on how other states regulate the practice of acupuncture. Sen. Smith wants to know how antineoplasms in the executive branch is handled in Oregon, California, Pennsylvania and Florida. Rep. Jones wants minority employment data. But there's one catch: they need to know it now, if not sooner.

Where do they turn?

The Legislative Council is the best place to start.

Located within the Capitol Building in Springfield, the Legislative Council is a purely service agency with no policymaking functions. It serves the legislature in these capacities: provides research, printing and graphic arts services and special activities. It is the legislature's agency for researching issues for state lawmakers before proposed laws get to the bill-drafting stage.

"The council was set up in 1937 with the idea that it would study what was coming up in the next session of the General Assembly and offer solutions and proposals relating to these affairs," explained William Day, research director. "It was patterned after a similar agency in Kansas. It worked in that capacity in Kansas, but it didn't there."

Therefore the emphasis shifted to "spot" research. "This is a project we can complete within three days," he said.

The council is composed of 20 members, four ex officio members—the speaker of the House, president pro tempore of the Senate, and the minority leaders of the two houses—plus eight representatives appointed by the speaker and eight senators appointed by the president pro tempore of the Senate. They meet quarterly rotating between Chicago and Springfield.

In addition, 31 persons, including research associates, clerical staff and service unit personnel, comprise the working staff.

"Generally one person works on one request," Day explained. "Our staff is very specialized. For example, we have four lawyers and many with a background in political science."

The research associate uses such avenues of information as the Illinois State Library, its own files, and other agencies similar to the council throughout the country. In addition, the council has agreements with Illinois universities to use faculty members as a scientific pool which legislators can utilize under special contracts, to survey and report on data needed for informed consideration of issues.

"If time permits we write up, in typewritten form, the information we gather via a request," inserted Day who has been with the council since 1959. "However, some of the requests involve a verbal reply."

When is the peak period for research?

Plateau in height reached

Parents, relax. The days of looking up to your children may be coming to an end.

That's the comforting news for mothers and dads who find it difficult to lay down the law about the family car to teenagers who tower over them. The not-so-tall story is that a recent national health survey produced no evidence of a tendency, noted in earlier studies, for each generation to be taller than the preceding one. But young people today are, on the average, heavier than youngsters were some decades ago.

Statisticians report that the average height for 17-year-old boys, who had not quite attained maximum height, was slightly over 68 inches in the years 1960-70, a figure comparable to that recorded in 1954 in a study done in the state of Michigan.

Girls, at age 17, are more likely to have achieved maximum growth, have also experienced a leveling off in height, with an average height of somewhat over 64 inches registered both in 1954 and in 1970.

A similar leveling off in growth among younger children also was reported.

Greater height at maturity has in the past been attributed to several factors, notably improved health care and diet.

The tapering off in height increases may indicate that the nutritional quality of young people's diet has reached a plateau.

However, further increase in height at maturity may still be possible if environmental and genetic factors become more subject to human control.

The trend toward earlier maturation, especially among boys, appears to be continuing. The greatest annual change in average heights of boys now occurs at ages 12 and 13 rather than between ages 12 and 14, as it did in 1954.

Girls on the average experience an "adolescent growth spurt" at ages 11 and 12.

This earlier maturation of children may be responsible for the lower average weights of children.

The statisticians suggest that in areas where Twigg has already become passé, a few extra pounds may be considered attractive, even among the younger set.

New campsite named in honor of Henn

G. Rollin Henn, 2876 Washington Ave., was honored Friday evening at the Cahokia Lodge Order of the Arrow banquet in the Madison Recreation Center, with a new troop campsite was named for him.

The campsite is to be built at Camp Sunnen near Potosi, Mo., in the spring and will be put into use by local Scouts next summer.

The Order of the Arrow earned the money to pay for construction through contributions of Arrow members, a pancake day and popcorn sales.

The need for the new campsite and the suggestion as to who it should be named for developed a year ago when the local lodge officers were hosted to a weekend "mini" vacation at the Scenic villa of actor George Lindsey on Table Rock Lake by W. F. "Mick" Strange, council camping chairman.

Henn, a veteran Scout of 30 years, served as lodge advisor when Strange was the local boy chief.

Currently serving on the council executive board and as assistant council commissioner, he received the highest award the Arrow can bestow, known as the Vigil honor, in October 1952.

Henn was awarded the Silver Beaver by the council in 1950 and the Uniwha District presented him with a Scout "Oscar" in 1948 for service to Scouting.

In 1925, he was assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 13 and from June 1937 until June 1945, Henn was Scoutmaster of Troop 11. He was elected to the council executive board in 1945 and has served on the governing body of the local council since.

He served as vice-president of the council from 1963 to January 1969 and then served as president until January 1971.

Mike Billeby of Venice, chief of the lodge, presented Henn with a gold hammer bearing an engraved plate symbolic of the new site.

Mental health unit gets buses

Ralph Yemm, chairman of the Madison County (708) Mental Health Board, Dr. Jane Josse, administrator of the subregion of Department of Mental Health; Chris Johnson, board director of Specialized Services, and Thomas Moehn, co-director of Specialized Services, dedicated two new buses at the Alton Specialized Services facility, 88 Henry St.

Total cost of the vehicles is $17,589.00. The Federal Development Disability Service Act Administered through Illinois Department of Mental Health provided $13,589 of the funds. The remaining monies are from Madison County (708).

Henn, a veteran Scout of 30 years, served as lodge advisor

As year ends, Granite City sewer breaks loom as a major problem for area

As the year of 1973 draws to a close, one of the most immediate and serious problems facing this area is the continuing series of sanitary sewer breaks occurring in Granite City.

Repair costs for this year alone have exceeded $1 million and the eventual total is certain to be much higher. Federal disaster allocations are being obtained to reimburse the city government for some of these expenditures but are not likely to meet the full cost.

Meanwhile, new breaks are being found almost daily.

Although waterproof joints are being installed during these repairs,

Elections consolidated; next step could be shorter post-primary campaign

Thanks to action by the Madison County Board and many other counties following pending legislation, 1974 will bring two rather than four elections in most sections of Illinois, saving millions of dollars statewide. The consolidated balloting will take place March 19 and Nov. 5.

A further step worthy of General Assembly action—although it is too late to alter the 1974 pattern—would be to shorten the span between the primary and general elections.

The period of more than seven months—or nearly a year including

Watergate dominant 1973 news story; energy crisis may lead the 1974 list

The nation and world are much too large and complex for an entire year to be easily summarized. Nevertheless, just as 1968 is sadly recalled as a time of bloodshed—assassinations and inner city violence at home and warfare overseas—1973 will be remembered as the year of the Watergate scandal.

The erroneous concept that "the end justifies the means" led to the eventual downfall of an unprecedented number of Presidential aides. They forgot that allegiance to the law and the Constitution is necessary no matter how high one has risen.

They mistakenly concluded that the retention of a particular individual in office was essential because America was not strong enough to survive the alternative result.

On the assumption that the nation was in peril, they imperiled it even further by unilaterally extending the authority of the executive branch of government far beyond the "checks and balances" system devised by the farsighted founding fathers of the United States.

Fortunately, the attempt was detected and ended. If there is a "silver lining in the dark cloud," it is

Steps to take by New Year's to save taxes

December is not only the month for Christmas shopping—it's also the time to look for ways to save on your 1973 tax bill.

"There are some simple steps which, if taken before the end of the year, may result in substantial tax savings," observes W. Scane Bowler, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Pioneer Western Corporation, who adds that "the best place to start is with an estimate of 1973 income, compared with 1972's total and a projection for 1974."

Pioneer Western is a national financial services organization.

"One of the first steps to take in effective tax planning is to be doubly sure that all payments made for dependents meet existing support tests—a taxpayer must provide more than 50 per cent of an individual's support in order to claim an exemption. Further, there are some payments that do not count as support—life insurance premiums and income taxes, for example."

"Then, take a look at your investment program. There may be some stocks or bonds that preservation of individual rights is no longer a cause occupying the thoughts of only an elite few, but a banner behind which nearly every citizen proudly marches.

"The repercussions of Watergate, which had its beginnings in 1971 and 1972 before bursting into full flower in 1973, are certain to continue into 1974. Impachment of the President is still not a certainty but is recognized by all as a distinct springtime possibility.

As the several inquiries continue, as new indictments are returned, as more ex-officials go on trial for alleged crimes, the pressure for affirmative House action could become irresistible. Our guess is that, if called on to vote, our congressman would vote to impeach and both our senators would vote to convict if they became convinced that wrongdoing had been proven beyond a reasonable doubt.

If impeachment occurs, this would be the dominant news development of 1974.

It is investigations far to lead to such an outcome, the No. 1 story of the coming year instead may be the fuel-energy crisis that began taking its toll this fall and seems likely to accelerate in intensity during the late winter and early spring.

that should be sold to take full advantage of capital gains or losses regulations. Keep in mind that gains made on stock sales after December 31, 1973, are not taxable until 1974. But, losses on sales up to the last trading day of the year are deductible," Bowler emphasizes.

When considering available deductions, don't waste any, he warns. If, for example, there is an unsettled doctor or dentist bill, it can be paid in 1973 or deferred until early 1974, depending on the taxpayer's adjusted gross income and other medical expenses.

"Only those medical expenses in excess of 3 per cent of adjusted gross income are deductible. If 1973 doctors' bills have been low and there is nothing to be gained by paying an unsettled bill this year, defer payment until 1974."

"And, just as deferring the payment of an expense can sometimes be advantageous, the shifting of income can often result in a tax saving. If, for instance, a taxpayer is to receive a 1973 year-end bonus, it might be to his advantage to have his employer delay that bonus until early 1974—de-

New Year wishes for one's friends —character, fidelity, usefulness

To the Editor:

Much is being said about the President of the United States. His net worth, that is, the difference between his assets and liabilities, is the subject of much speculation.

But what many of the news commentators fail to mention is that they're talking about the President's "financial" net worth. Naturally, we assume that's what the recent audit is all about. But there's a difference in any person's "worth" and his "financial" worth.

REVIEW A story of triumph, tragedy

ALL MY YESTERDAYS: an autobiography by Edward G. Robinson with Leonard Spigelglass; Hawthorn Books, Inc.; 344 pages; $10.

Reviewed by
FRANK MACCOMBER

Edward G. Robinson was not your handsome leading man, to be sure. Yet he was one of the great American actors and to millions he was Little Caesar, or Wolf Larsen, or Dr. Ehrlich or Lancey Howard—some of the late actor's most famous roles.

For all his ultimate success in motion pictures and on the stage, the late Robinson's life was tinged as much with tragedy as with triumph. They seemed to go hand in hand for the Jewish boy who emigrated from Romania to the tenements of Manhattan's Lower East Side.

Robinson's autobiography is an absorbing account of Broadway in the twenties and Hollywood in the golden thirties, when movie stars were the kings and queens of America. There is a closeup look at his leading ladies—Ethel Barrymore, Marlene Dietrich, Bette Davis, Lauren Bacall, Mary Astor—and the men he shared with—Humphrey Bogart, George Raft, John Garfield, Frank Sinatra. And there are sparkling vignettes about the movie moguls he toiled for—Irving Thalberg, Louis B. Mayer and Jack Warner.

Just as it seemed Robinson had reached the heights of his career, his name was linked with communism by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. By the early 1950s Robinson couldn't get a job. No studio would have him.

Later he was absolved, and his comeback was a story of courage in itself. By then Robinson also was acquiring one of the finest private art collections in the world. But again came the tragic climax—he was forced to sell most of his priceless paintings as part of a divorce settlement.

Robinson is frank to concede his private life was a failure. His wife suffered from severe depression and his son and only child turned to alcohol.

This distinguished actor, working with Spigelglass and knowing he was dying of cancer after winning a first ballot Oscar, at times reveals his deepest feelings and the events which triggered them.

Ironically, Robinson recalls he abhorred motion pictures and had no intention of making them so long as the Broadway stage waited him. But at last the hard facts of economic life confronted him and he went to Hollywood. After one silent film, Robinson was rocketed to fame for his role as the vicious gang killer in "Little Caesar." Then came a string of successes, like "Five Star Final," "Double Indemnity" and "Dr. Ehrlich's Magic Bullet."

At a time when most actors retire, Robinson kept working for that was his life now that the family had been shattered. He was felled by a heart attack in Africa, nearly killed in a Beverly Hills accident and finally died of cancer after doctors believed the time he had beaten the disease.

Underage get no license to wed in Illinois

GENEVA—When young teenagers want to get married, it's hard to stop them. Many appear at their county clerk's office with their identification in their pockets, and lies on their lips.

Our house was burglarized and the family's legal papers, including birth certificates, were stolen, says one. I lost my driver's license and birth certificate, says another.

My mother put the papers, which were in my pants pocket, through the laundry. Our house burned up and everything in it is a few miles from the stories.

Some underage would-be brides or bridegrooms bring a note allegedly from a concerned parent, of course, giving permission for the license. None of the above is an acceptable excuse to the county clerk or his staff.

State statutes govern issuance of marriage licenses, and regardless of how the staff feels about a latter-day Romeo and Juliet, the rules are followed.

"I don't hold it against the kids. ... I remember when I was young," said Kane County Clerk William A. Vollrath. "It's the parents who give us the most trouble."

More data on finance costs

Beginning Jan. 1, creditors will have to tell consumers—before they sign a contract—whether finance charge refunds or rebates will be given if the consumer pays the debt off before the contract deadline. Dorothy Goss, University of Illinois Extension family economics specialist, notes that creditors will have to provide information as a Truth in Lending disclosure according to requirements of the Federal Reserve System (FRS). The FRS gives this example of a new refund policy: If the cash price of an item is $100 and the finance charge for a year is $20, the consumer normally signs an obligation to pay $120 in 12 monthly installments of $10 each.

If the consumer repays the obligation in full before the maturity deadline, he may or may not receive a refund on a portion of the $20 finance charge. That decision is made by the creditor.

If the creditor will not make a refund, he must tell the consumer before the obligation is signed, beginning tomorrow. The FRS already requires creditors who do make refunds to explain to consumers the method of the refund.

Farmers warn against over-production

Illinois farmers have backed development of a national energy policy to define and meet the nation's energy needs and urged a cautious approach to future food production plans.

Adoption of policy positions on a wide range of public and agricultural issues was a final order of business of the four-day 59th annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural Association, state-wide Farm Bureau.

The IAA will ask the American Farm Bureau Federation to adopt a policy which would support development of a national policy to define energy needs and how those needs can be met, consistent with wise use of resources, environmental protection, sound land use and the welfare of the people.

The energy crisis policy also should support an extensive federal research program to develop new energy sources as well as to further develop existing sources, the IAA voting delegates recommended.

The delegates also expressed concern over the existing imbalance between the supply and demand for energy. The IAA delegates suggested a 10-point program:

1. Temporary relaxing or delaying of certain environmental controls, such as those relating to auto emissions and high sulfur fuel emissions in non-metropolitan areas.
2. Early completion of the Alaskan pipeline.
3. Encouragement of new drilling and exploration for oil and gas, including relaxation of price regulations.
4. Increase imports and develop port facilities to handle such imports.
5. Provide sound programs with adequate environmental safeguards to increase the use of coal and nuclear power as alternatives to oil and gas.
6. Provide research programs to develop methods to perfect alternative energy sources, such as waste material and recycling.
7. Pledge the Farm Bureau to assist in information programs to encourage conservation of all fuels.
8. Lower speed limits to conserve fuel.
9. Increase development of mass transportation systems.
10. Work for inclusion of agricultural uses as a high priority and pleasure uses as low priority in any allocation program.

The delegates also urged the IAA to support a proposal calling for a federal grain insurance program similar to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation program for banks.

The delegates also urged the IAA to support a proposal to create a super-port at New Orleans for improved movement of farm products to foreign markets.

Urged strict enforcement of federal Packers and Stockyards Act regulations which prohibit market makers from custom-feeding beef animals.

Urged the Chicago Board of Trade to establish multiple delivery points for grain that are easily accessible for delivery and shipment from various areas of Illinois, and urged consideration of carefully analyze all known facts in planning their production in order to avoid over-reaction to past conditions which could lead to significant over-production or under-production.

In other policy resolutions, the 477 IAA voting delegates, representing more than 219,000 Illinois Farm Bureau members, recommended that the name "Illinois Farm Bureau" be used to publicly identify the organization while retaining the legal name of the association as the Illinois Agricultural Association.

Supported a proposed market development and research program for soybeans to be financed by check-off funds from producers. (Enabling legislation was adopted by the Illinois General Assembly this year.)

Sought major reform of probate laws and procedures to increase the promptness, reduce the cost, and simplify the procedures for settling estates.

Asked development of coverage similar to that provided by workmen's compensation for the operator and his family and to provide adequate medical coverage for certain farm employees.

Sought amendments to the law on river conservancy districts to improve the procedures for petitioning districts, selection of directors, provision for dissolution, and provision for adequate notice of public hearings on proposed districts.

Opposed elimination of tuition at state-supported institutions of higher education in Illinois.

5-member board to direct state lottery

RAYSERATI Press Record
Springfield Bureau

Work is progressing on plans to get Illinois' lottery underway next year.

The legislation to legalize a statewide lottery in Illinois was passed in the full session of the General Assembly and was signed into law by Gov. Daniel Walker.

The governor will appoint a board which must be approved by the Senate, to help in the operation of the lottery. The Revenue Department, headed by Robert Alphin, will actually run the lottery.

As it now stands, the first tickets for the lottery won't go on sale until after July 1. The supporters of the lottery legislation couldn't muster the needed votes to make it effective immediately, so it was decided to delay the effective date.

But when the General Assembly returns on Jan. 9, there is a chance that the date will be moved to April 1.

The Revenue Department is currently looking at the lotteries being operated in other states. Officials in the department are checking on prize money, the price of tickets and what personnel will be needed to operate the lottery.

Apparently the price of tickets and the amounts of the prizes will be determined by the board. The board members could be announced shortly.

Presently there seems to be a trend toward charging 50 cents per ticket. The ticket would be sold in such places as supermarkets, hotels and other public places.

Winners apparently will be named each week, and it is a possibility that the prizes could go as high as $1 million. However, there has been no definite determination on the size and number of the prizes. Again, this area will have to be finalized by the five-member board.

There is a difference of opinion as to how much the tickets will cost. Estimates range from $100 million to $156 million a year.

The receipt will go into the state's general revenue fund, or the all-purpose "cookie jar." They are expected to offset the state funds that will be given to the Regional Transit Authority for Will, Kane, DuPage, McHenry, Lake and Cook Counties.

When the lottery was proposed in the spring, backers had suggested that the receipts go to the state mental health fund and public school fund.

New Hampshire, the first state to have a lottery, started with a $1 ticket and the drawing was once a year. This has been changed to 50 cents a ticket and the drawing is now once a week.

Some of the receipts are used for education.

Only one other Midwestern state has a lottery, Michigan. It has a 50-cent ticket and sells, on the average, 5.2 million tickets. It has grossed over $150 million and is considered one of the most successful lotteries.

However, a lottery is not new in Illinois. In the early 1800s, a lottery was used to finance a public works project.

New Venice sewer break

Another possible sewer break which will need to be excavated to determine the extent of damage was reported to the Venice City Council in its regular meeting Thursday night. The meeting was held Thursday because Christmas fell on the regular Tuesday meeting date.

The aldermen also were informed that repair work on sewer breaks will be resumed soon by G. H. Sternberg Co. which has the contract for repairing Venice sewer breaks. Venice has about 12 breaks or suspected breaks.

Other business was limited to approval of bills and claims.
